

Different evidence answers different questions

Keep read identity, junction identity, pair-level reporting, and protein function separate.

READ / JUNCTION

Exact coordinates + read IDs

What molecule or breakpoint was observed?

ORDERED PAIR

Reported $\neq$ every isoform validated

Was the pair reported
NanoString-supported?

FUNCTION

Requires separate experiments

Was a specific biological effect demonstrated?

Testing/QC unknown • Biological sample count unavailable • Missing contact $\neq$ zero contact